WASTE AS A VALUE

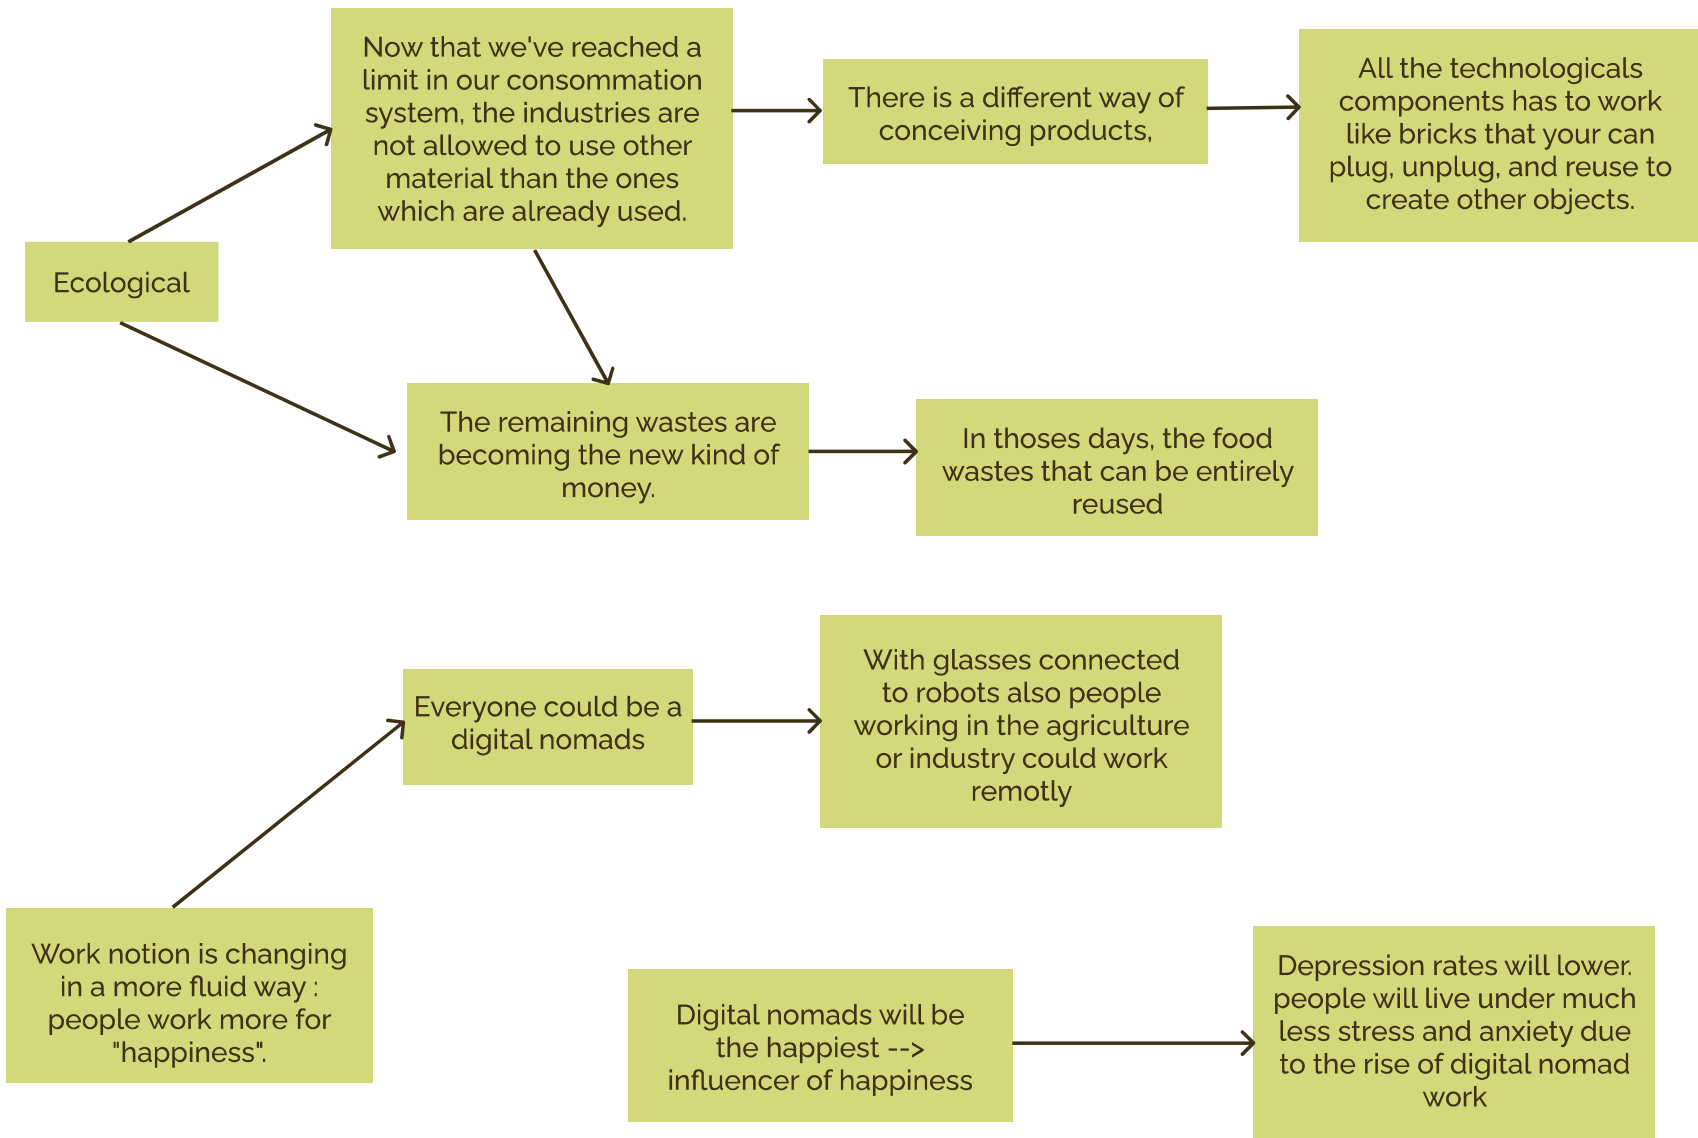

Digital nomads :

Digital nomads are people who conduct their life in a nomadic manner while engaging in remote work using digital telecommunications technology.

→ increasing in the future thanks to tech

AI is well developed, we have deep relationships with domotic objects, that can understand your voice and read your emotions. and they are "transferable" in your new habitations

2032

In 10 years, we will create value from waste, for both locals and nomads, in order to benefit mutually from this future nomadic way of life.

future :
waste = value
